

The Power of Drumming

Thursday evenings from 7 - 8 PM

at The Sanctuary

Sept. 27 through Nov. 26

2007

every other Thursday

Drumming is known for its uplifting and powerful healing effect on the body. This is a fun and energizing class where participants will learn traditional African rhythms and ensemble pieces on the djembe, the African hand drum, as well as improvisation structures to explore our own rhythms. Drumming brings us into community and is accessible to everyone. Join in the fun! Drums and hand percussion are provided.

Every other Thursday starting September 27, 2007 at THE SANCTUARY, 900 Sixteenth Street near the corner of Cone Blvd.

and North Church Street.

The Sanctuary phone: 621-1514

contact: betsy@betsybevan.com

Betsy's phone: 282-1838

Sign up for all 10 classes: $100. or 5 classes: $60. or pay by class: $15.

Facilitator: Betsy Bevan, MM has over 12 years of experience playing djembe and is a graduate of the Music for People training program which fosters creativity through music improvisation.